

Welcome to 2nd year RMPS

Every day we have to make lots of decisions:

'What will I have for breakfast?'

'What will I do after school?'

'What TV programme will I watch?'

These decisions are usually quite easy to make – we can usually just choose what we want to do without having to think much about it.

However, some decisions are more difficult to make. Sometimes we have to make a decision about what is the right or wrong thing to do in a certain situation. These decisions are called moral decisions.

Throughout our life we will have to make many moral decisions – decisions about what is the right or wrong thing to do in a certain situation.

Your task is to think about how you make moral decisions.

Please do the tasks on the following three pages.

If your RMPS teacher is Miss Ennis please send your completed work to Rebecca.Ennis@leith.edin.sch.uk

If your RMPS teacher is Mrs Brown please send your completed work to Patricia.Brown@leith.edin.sch.uk

How do you make a MORAL DECISION?

How do you know if something is wrong or right? What helps you make a moral decision?

Think about these situations and write down what makes you decide that it is wrong. Who/What tells you it is wrong?

Situation	Why do you think it's wrong?
Driving at 90 mph
Lying to your friend
Stealing
Being rude to other people
Not doing what you are told at school
Not doing what your parents want
Not doing your homework
Stealing even if you know you won't get caught

Now come up with five situations of your own.

Situation	Why do you think it is wrong?

Conscience

Your conscience is an inner feeling you get when you think an action is right or wrong. Sometimes people describe their conscience as being like an angel and a devil inside them that tell you if you should do something.

One thing my conscience tells me is wrong is

Rules/Law

Wherever you go, there are always rules. In school, at home, in town etc Write down 3 rules from each place.

Parents

Your parents or the people who brought you up have a big influence on what you THINK. If they've been telling you things since you were born you assume that they are telling the truth and that they are right.

Other adults

Name 4 other adults that might influence you when you decide if something is right or wrong e.g. Neighbour
